The Northern Illinois Antiques Dealers Association Show: Celebrating Fifty-Five Years of Quality Antiques Events

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

The Northern Illinois Antiques Dealers Association presented their 55th Annual Antiques Show on February 21st & 22nd at the Forest Hills Lodge in Rockford, Illinois. It may not be one of the biggest antique shows around, but it's certainly one of the best – and busiest. An eclectic mix of around forty dealers displayed everything from period fine art to vintage toys & advertising, with an emphasis on Country Americana. It's the diverse mix of quality dealers that sets this show apart. The NIADA folks certainly know how to run an antiques show - this one's now been a Midwest mainstay for more than half a century!

Appraisal Institute Releases Its 2014 "Trending Data" For Antiques & Collectibles

It's been almost three years since the Asheford Institute of Antiques, a professional-level, distance learning program on antiques, collectibles and appraising, released its inaugural report on buying and collecting trends within the antiques and collectibles community. But this year they're back with a new survey that's aimed at what the school calls, "the more relevant aspects" of the antiques marketplace, according to school spokesperson Tony Drew. "When originally released, our first survey was meant to merely gauge general areas of antique interest, but now that we've garnered some fairly extensive data over the past few years, we're finding that much of that information seems to be backing-up our initial discovery regarding the movement of certain antique trends within the marketplace," said Drew.

The latest survey, which was compiled from enrolled students and former graduates of the Institute, was intended to focus on the current trends of antiques and collectibles, and was based on sales and buyer's requests for specific items. And while no measurable scientific practices were utilized, and the survey remained informal in nature, the results still proved quite illuminating, said school Deputy Director, Chris Hughes, "What we've really noticed, is that there continues to be an apparent shift in the marketplace - especially when it comes to the younger generation - categories that tended to gain traction and move up the list in a truly meaningful way, were almost invariably connected to younger buyers. Conversely, categories of antiques that seemed to be off the Internet's central radar, appeared to remain relatively neutral in their respective rankings, and any movement that did occur, was usually the result of older more established buyers.

The link between young and old was not lost on Don Kirpatrick, a 30-something dealer in the Northeast, who participated in the school's original survey, as well as the current one, and who agrees with the Institute's latest findings. "A few years ago I started sensing that younger buyers were interested in different periods, and so I began adjusting my buying - I dumped the heavy ornate Victorian stuff - and instead concentrated on Art Nouveau, Art Deco, and even some 50's kitsch, and it's really paid off," says Kirpatrick. Staffers from the school also noted this sentiment, saying that many of the respondents from the latest survey had echoed these same thoughts, stating in essence that there had been a noticeable shift in overall buying preferences towards the "flashier" side of the Victorian spectrum. "It's just not my parents' antique store any more," said Julie Walsh, a dealer on the West coast, "I mean, I just can't sell what they sell... It simply doesn't resonate with my generation." According to Shirley Huey, one of the staffers involved in completing the survey, younger dealers continued to have very different items and inventory when compared to older dealers. In fact, said Huey, "Not only were they vastly different when it came to inventory, but in their marketing approaches as well. It's a trend we're likely to continue to see," added Huey.

School spokesperson, Tony Drew noted that while the latest survey conducted by the Institute was by no means scientific in nature, it still managed to show the development of certain patterns and trends within today's antiques and collectibles marketplace. "I think our survey is here to stay," said Drew, "We've had an awful lot of requests since the first one came out, so it's likely we'll continue with them well into the future."

For readers seeking more information about the school's latest survey, or their Antiques and Appraisal Course, they can be reached at: (877) 444-4508 or visit their web site at: www.asheford.com. Forest Hills Lodge Hosts 55th Annual Northern Illinois Antique Dealers Association Antiques Show

The NIADA Antiques Show was the very first show I covered for this newspaper - way back in 2003. It's still one of my favorites, with a flavor different than any other show I've attended. Perhaps the more intimate scale of the show has something to do with it. Or maybe it's the unique mix of dealers, many of who are longtime NIADA members.

Forest Hills Lodge hosted this fifty-fifth edition of the NIADA show, as they have for more than twenty years. You couldn't ask for a better venue for the show. It's just off of I-90, on Route 173 at the northern edge of Rockford. Parking is free, and it's only a modest $6.00 donation for show entry. Proceeds from the show, as always, are donated to several local non-profit historical associations.

I always find lots of outstanding 18th and 19th century American country furniture and accessories at the NIADA Show, and this year was no exception. Sproule's Antiques is always a good place to start looking. A great mix of painted pieces awaited there, including two red-washed dry sinks ($1,075 and $1,200), plus a great circa-1790s hanging cupboard with hand-wrought hardware & sporting a faded blue finish.

The country furnishings theme continued at Prairie Dock Antiques, where I

Finds at Little Bohemia Antiques included several folky pet-themed period paintings, plus a matched set of four hand-painted 19th century English plates with canine portraits - $225 each. 630-513-8670

Shoppers found art pottery of all sorts at Stephrick's Antiques, among the inventory this marked Austria tobacco humidor, asking price $75. 815-398-7927

Two folky finds from Iowa's Main St. Antiques and Art: the "Billy" bottle cap sign priced at $60, the giltwood & red velvet tramp art box at $165. 319-643-2065

At Pipsqueak & Me Antiques sat this all-original two-door walnut cupboard, asking price $1,075. 608-295-7240

American primitives was the theme in Country Love Antiques' display, with finds from these early iron & wood ice skates ($168) and New Hampshire-found spice cabinet in a faded green finish - $218. 309-367-4837

Classic Americana at Country Peddler: the rustic hanging cupboard in old red & blue paint priced at $735, the early 18th century banister-back chair at $695. 920-564-6386

Interesting early kitchenalia from Country Love Antiques: the pewter plates priced from $48, the cow-horn spoons ($14 each) hung in a primitive spoon rack priced at $138. 309-367-4837

I found this interesting handwritten English indenture document at Main St. Antiques and Art, dated-1850 and priced at $265. 319-643-2065

found a wonderful smoke-decorated blind-front cupboard ($1,495) and a classic Pennsylvania blanket chest in a mustard finish, asking price $750. Pigeon Hollow Farm Antiques had many fine choices too, along with a funky sheet iron & wood hog scalding vat repurposed into a bar or sideboard that was among their first sales of the show.

And there's always something interesting in the display of Trash-Junque-Treasures, where shoppers found a museum's worth of antique farm & kitchen gadgets - from tabletop churns and sausage stuffers to an unusual adjustable-height cheese wheel stand.

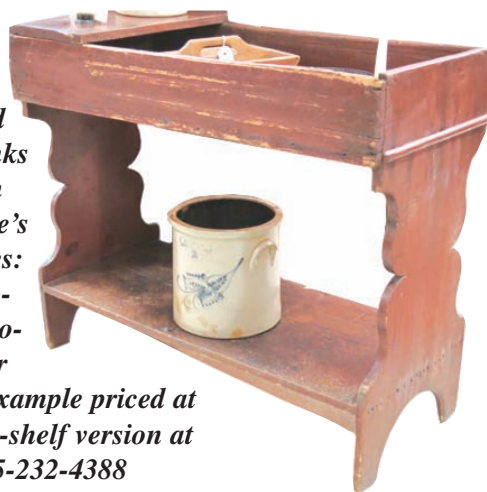

It's great pieces like these that have kept folks coming back to this show year after year. I hope the photos give you a taste of what the NIADA Antique Show has to offer. Be sure to pencil in February of 2016 and come out for the 56th edition of the Show. If you would like more information about the event, or the dealers exhibiting in it, you can contact show manager Bob Campbell at 815-761-1444, or go to their website www.niadaantiques.com. While you're there, be sure to sign up for their email list and print out a coupon for reduced admission to next year's show. And as always, keep an eye out for next year's NIADA Antiques Show in the Auction Action Antique News!

Jay Friberg of Prairie Dock Antiques shows a smoke-decorated cupboard to shoppers. Found in Shelbyville, Illinois, the cupboard had an asking price of $1,495. 815-645-8140

A tale of two red-washed dry sinks from Sproule's Antiques: the two-door, two-drawer hooded example priced at $1,200, the open-shelf version at $1,075. 815-232-4388

My painted furniture pick at Sproule's Antiques: this circa 1790 hanging chestnut cupboard in a faded blue finish & with hand wrought "H" hinges - $1,595. 815-232-4388

Highlights from Indiana exhibitor Jacque Bradford Antiques included this early White Star wood & iron sled ($420) and chunky early nail keg, standing 24" in height & priced at $325.

An interesting mix of 19th century hanging salt and match boxes from Sproule's Antiques, with prices from $110. 815-232-4388

At Jacque Bradford Antiques, a well-loved early mohair Teddy bear ($115) rested on a miniature pine bench priced at $125.

Iowa Gas & Rich Penn Auctions Gear Up for August 2015

Ron Hoyt from the Iowa Gas Swap Meet and Rich & Sharon Penn made an important announcement at Penn's October Auction. "We're joining forces." said Penn. "We'll be working with Ron and his partner John Logsdon to put on the auction at Iowa Gas in August of 2015 in Des Moines, IA." Iowa Gas is widely known as the nation's biggest and best Gas & Oil Show and Auction. Rich Penn Auctions is known for putting on high quality auctions with a global following and also conducting them in Des Moines.

Ron Hoyt offered, "Rich and I have been talking for quite a while. When we talked at his October auction, Rich was showing me the over 2,000 bidders from over 40 countries. So when you look at our show in Des Moines, and Rich & Sharon coming from Waterloo, to do their auctions in Des Moines... it's like we're next door neighbors. He can bring the entire world to our Gas & Oil people." Penn added, "We've known Ron for a long time and we've been coming to the show for years. It seemed like a natural fit. Sharon and I are both excited about it. So is our auction crew." John stated, "It's our intention to keep Iowa Gas the biggest and best. We feel it's absolutely necessary to offer our buyers and sellers the best possible experience. When we make changes for Iowa Gas...that's always our main concern. After researching options we decided this was the best choice and will enhance the auction experience for everyone at the show."

Penn has been in the auction business since 2000 and was one of the first auction houses to introduce online live bidding. Their following is now world wide. Penn belongs to both the National Auctioneer's Association and the Iowa Auctioneers Association. His company has won dozens of National awards for their marketing and advertising. "We're looking forward to shifting into a new level of activity for Iowa Gas," said Penn, "We're fueling up for the long haul and we've already started lining up consignments for this auction." He went on, "We don't have as much room in this auction as we do in our 1,500 - 2,000 lot auctions. So we expect it will fill up quickly."

Interested participants should contact Rich Penn or Ron Hoyt.

Marble Collectors Society of America Annual Contribution Drive

Article by Marble Collectors Society of America

The Marble Collectors Society of America (MCSA) was founded in 1975 as a nonprofit organization established for charitable, scientific, literary and educational purposes. Society objectives include gathering and disseminating information as well as performing services to further the hobby of marbles, marble collecting, and the preservation of the history of marbles and marble making.

Contributions are needed for the Society to continue to meet its goals and publications. The largest portion of contributions received is used to print and mail information generated by the Society. None of the contributions that are received are used for compensation. All of the hours spent researching, writing, typing, and preparing mailings are done so at no expense to the MCSA. Your contribution may be tax deductible. $12.00 will add your name to the Society contributor mailing list for 2015; $21.00 covers two years; and $30.00 three years.

In 2015, the Society intends to continue publication of its quarterly newsletter "Marble Mania", and its accompanying Calendar of Meets, publish additional comprehensive books on the hobby of marbles, containing extensive photographic histories as well as text. In addition, the Society will be continuing research and development for the MCSA library, and the development of a collection of marbles for the Society library. Please remember, Society books make great gifts all year long and are discounted for Society contributors.

Some of the MCSA's major accomplishments to date are the uninterrupted issuance of the Society's quarterly newsletter, "Marble Mania 'M", and accompanying Calendar of Meets, shows and auctions; various surveys; photographing and publishing color sheets; gathering and placing museum collections, in addition to those currently housed at The Smithsonian Institute, The Corning Museum of Glass, and the Museum of American Glass at Wheaton Arts; publication of price guides with periodic updates; ongoing work towards establishing a library of articles and marble related material; preparation and publication of contributor listings; research and issuance of articles concerning marble factories and contemporary marble makers; publication of books dedicated to the hobby of marble collecting; classification and appraisal services.

Finally, MCSA has been an active and vital participant in the growth and visibility of the marble field throughout its 40-year history. The Society also recognizes its obligations as the leading voice and reporting agency for the hobby, a task taken very seriously.

For more information on the MCSA, or to send your contribution, contact the Society directly at MCSA, P.O. Box 222, Trumbull, CT 06611. Contributions may be tax deductible and will be acknowledged.

Celebrate “American Ingenuity” at the Fox Valley Antiques Show & Sale St. Charles, Illinois March 14 & 15, 2015

Article & photos by Debbie McArdle
(Chicago Suburban Antiques Dealers Association)

Our younger generation's new take on design has inspired the theme “American Ingenuity” for the upcoming Spring Fox Valley Antiques Show and Sale. Their creativity in adapting antiques to today's lifestyle has added a new, and welcomed, dimension to collecting!

Come observe how old mixes with new! You will see many one-of-a-kind objects from the 17th, 18th, 19th and early-20th centuries at the March 14 & 15, 2015 Fox Valley Antiques Show and Sale in St. Charles, Illinois, their 58th Spring gathering.

Connect with others who enjoy the conveniences of a modern lifestyle but who also love the unique look created when decorating with antiques. Share in the quest to create your one-of-a-kind style. Fifty-five experienced antiques dealers traveling from 14 states will exhibit furnishings from our past, creating exciting and refreshing settings to compliment any type of architecture and decorating scheme.

Held indoors at the bright and spacious Kane County Fairgrounds' Prairie Events Center, dealers exhibit in walled and papered booths, their offerings arranged in room settings, many with an emphasis on decorative and graphic design. A “juried” show assures authenticity, allowing customers to buy with confidence.

Following is a small sampling:

Some dealers will be ready for spring with inventory to decorate gardens and patios. Others will concentrate on the indoors with antiques large and small.

Marion Atten, Antiques at Hillwood Farms, will bring a pair of early 18th century English Portraits, a 19th century hornbeam with original stomper, and a pair of English Charles II cane chairs, along with many other early and authentic pieces.

Bob & Jan Campbell, Swan House, have been collecting a number of unusual items for the show. Among the wares identified thus far: a Colburn's Mustard box with original advertising and a Hoosier Grain Drill from the early 1900s with original paint and advertising.

Stephen Reid Antiques, DeKalb, Illinois, will bring a rare sailor's mourning pendant dated 1807, along with many other items he has been saving especially for this show.

Catered lunch with comfortable seating is available and there is plenty of free parking. Show hours are Saturday, March 14, 10 - 5, and Sunday, March 15, 10 - 4, at the Kane County Fairgrounds, 525 South Randall Road, St. Charles, Illinois 60174 (enter on Randall Road between Routes 38 and 64).

Produced by the Chicago Suburban Antiques Dealers Association, the show celebrates our heritage by collaborating with its sponsor, Garfield Farm Museum in LaFox, Illinois. Both not-for-profit organizations, admission of $8 benefits local historical and educational endeavors. Discount coupons are available on the CSADA website. For more information visit <http://www.csada.com/> ATM on premises.

Stephen Reid Antiques, DeKalb, Illinois will bring this rare sailor's mourning pendant dated 1807.

Marion Atten, Antiques at Hillwood Farms, will be bringing a pair of early 18th century English Portraits

Antiques are displayed in 55 room-like settings created by dealers from 14 states.

Gone Wild for Manatee Gift Adoptions!

Adopting real Florida manatees for family and friends this Holiday season is nature-inspired, thoughtful gift-giving that helps Save the Manatee Club increase conservation and education efforts for the endangered marine mammals and their aquatic habitat. It also helps holiday shoppers stretch those often limited budgets.

Last year, Lisa Cartossa from Holt, Missouri, decided that since her two young nieces, Lily and Rose from North Carolina, were fortunate enough to have most everything they needed, she would adopt manatees as Christmas presents for them. Lisa chose adoptees “Paddy Doyle” and “Flash,” who regularly winter at Blue Spring State Park, from Save the Manatee Club's Adopt-A-Manatee program. All of the manatees available for adoption can be viewed on the Club's website at <http://www.savethemanatee.org/adoptees.htm>. Two new manatees recently added to the list of adoptees are from Alabama, “Zewie” and “Bama.”

An annual manatee adoption costs $25, which is just a little over $2 a month, and includes a color photo of a real manatee, an adoption certificate, biography, membership handbook, and subscriptions to the Club's newsletters which feature updated reports on the manatees in the adoption program. Shipping is free within the United States. Gift adoptions are sent with a personalized holiday message. Or for a $35 tax-deductible donation, each new member will also receive Save the Manatee Club's 2012 wall calendar, featuring spectacular manatee photos to enjoy all year and well past.

“When my nieces received their adoption packets for Christmas, I was told you could not have heard two children screaming with excitement louder than they were,” said Lisa. “Immediately, the manatees' pictures went on their walls. They knew about manatees, but Save the Manatee Club's adoption program created this passion and enthusiasm in them that's very wonderful for me as an adult to be part of. I can't tell you how thrilled my nieces are to get the newsletter addressed personally to them. They read every word front to back. Who knows, the Club may have just created the next generation of marine life specialists dedicated to the conservation of these wonderful creatures.”

Save the Manatee Club, a national nonprofit organization, was co-founded thirty years ago by singer/songwriter Jimmy Buffett. Funds from the Holiday gift adoptions help with manatee rescue, rehabilitation, and release efforts; research; education and public awareness projects; conservation work to protect manatees and their habitat; and for programs in the United States, Central and South America, the Wider Caribbean, and West Africa. Manatees are listed as endangered at the state, federal, and international levels.

Patrick Rose, aquatic biologist and Executive Director of the Club, points out that manatees face tremendous challenges to their survival from human activities. “In Florida alone, since record-keeping began in 1974, more than 38% of manatee deaths where cause of death is known were human-related. So it is imperative that we continue to educate the public about the presence of manatees in our waters. Adopting a manatee is a great way to learn more about this beloved species and how to help make a difference in their lives.”

Find out more information about manatees and Holiday gift adoptions by contacting Save the Manatee Club at 500 N. Maitland Ave., Maitland, FL 32751, or calling 1-800-432-JOIN (5646), or visiting their web site at www.savethemanatee.org, where you can also sign up for the Club's free E-Newsletter. Also, discover a variety of manatee items in the Club's gift catalog at <http://www.savethemanatee.org/shop/>.
